Practice Summary

Chris Gulla has been litigating cases since 2013. His current practice involves the areas of premises liability, products liability, commercial automobile liability, catastrophic personal injury, sports law, employment and insurance coverage. He has developed extensive experience in the defense of amusement park, water park and entertainment/leisure venue clients and is an active member of the International Amusement & Leisure Defense Association.

Mr. Gulla has comprehensive experience in both state and federal court. He has also successfully handled private arbitrations both domestically and internationally. Having worked with both insurance companies and self-insured entities throughout his career, Mr. Gulla has honed his litigation skills and relationships across a wide variety of different practice areas. He has represented some of the nation's most recognizable amusement park, retail and hotel companies in complex general liability matters throughout all phases of the litigation process. Moreover, he has significant experience defending cases involving commercial automobile liability, insurance coverage and employment disputes.

Mr. Gulla resides in Audubon, NJ with his wife and two daughters. A former college basketball player and coach who has worked as a player agent, Mr. Gulla is often retained by basketball players and sports agencies to protect their legal interests in a variety of contractual matters and disputes. When not practicing law, Mr. Gulla enjoys spending time with his family, hiking, international travel, visiting USA's national parks and cheering on the New York Jets.
